

The members of the Louisville Typographical Union are requested to meet at Temperance Hall, this (Sunday) evening, September 26, at 8 o'clock, to attend the funeral of Mr. L. Ward. By order of the President.

J. R. WATTS, Secretary.

17 Third street was the scene of a homicide, at evening, about two o'clock, or a little after, when Lindsay came up to D. L. Ward, who was sitting or standing in front of Diller's tobacco store. Some conversation ensued.

Lindsay called Ward a liar; Ward struck him, and Lindsay shot him instantly. Ward staggered into this office, and sat down in a chair. "Lindsay did it," said he, "arrest him, and die in about half an hour. The testimony before the Coroner's inquest will be in another column. The parties were not in the office; the deceased left that office on a mission, and Lindsay has a wife and two children, who live in Covington, Ky.

LOUISVILLE COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—This well established, popular, and exceedingly useful institution, well and favorably known as "Boyd's Commercial College," has been in successful operation for more than twelve years, and was chartered by the Legislature in 1848. It has, during this period, graduated greater number of thorough, graduated book-keepers, who are now occupying responsible and lucrative positions, than any other school in the West or South.

The great advantage which this college has over any other, is that the course of instruction is thorough, plain, and practical, and embraces every branch of a commercial education. The pupils are led gradually, step by step, through the fundamental principles of the science, illustrated by practical forms of day book, journal, and ledger entries, up to the final closing of the books, thereby acquiring in the space of six or eight weeks knowledge that could not be acquired in two years as an assistant in a counting room. The pupils also have the advantage of a thorough course of instruction in penmanship, and for a small extra fee can obtain a complete knowledge of mathematics.

Mr. J. J. Boyl, the principal of the school, is a superior practical accountant, and an excellent teacher of the science he professes. With the aid of his accomplished assistants, he has enabled to afford instruction to his pupils in the most thorough manner in the West or South. We have no doubt that this school will continue to receive the liberal patronage extended to it in years past. See advertisement in another column.

We invite the attention of our friends in the country to the advertisement of Hobbs, Walker & Co. To those who know these gentlemen, it will be abundantly clear that their statements may be relied on, for in the minds of all such, the reliability of Hobbs, Walker & Co. is a "fixed institution,"—as much so as the rising and setting of the sun. We have frequently visited the nurseries of these gentlemen, and can say that in no other nurseries have we ever seen trees so beautiful. They understand their business thoroughly, and, in addition to their knowledge, they have taste. No trees grown in northern nurseries can compare with a comparison with theirs. We advise our friends, who attend the Agricultural Fair, to pay a visit to these nurseries, and see for themselves. If they do so, they will say that our praise is fair.

ANOTHER CUTTING AFFAIR.—We learned about 12 o'clock last night, of another cutting affair in the First Ward; the affair as reported to us, was that John Gray and Doc Anis, attacked some other man, name unknown, and cut him very badly, so that it is supposed he can scarcely recover. The difficulty originated here, we are told, about a chicken fight.

We also learn that the cause of the affair on Fifth street, was some dispute about a chair. Here are two cutting and one shooting affair between 2 and 12 o'clock, r. m., yesterday, and has resulted fatally, and it is expected the others will also. What are we coming to?

We did not hear of any arrests in this latter case.

LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE RAILROAD.—Winter Arrangement.

We call the attention of readers to the winter arrangement of trains over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and the Lebanon Branch road. The arrival and departure of trains, the connections made, the arrangements for through passengers to Nashville, to Lebanon, &c., are all furnished, and we refer our travelers and citizens to the advertisement for particulars.

The Daily Democrat is the only paper in Louisville published on Sunday morning—therefore, those who are desirous of securing the news up to the close of the week, and the dispatches and local news up to the hour of publication, should send in their orders.

Mr. C. C. Spencer's sale, at auction of a house and lot on Main street, between 7th and 8th, on Saturday afternoon, was largely attended, and the bidding was quite lively. The property brought $6,500, and was bought by Mr. Robert Beatty.

See Mr. C. C. Spencer's advertisement in our paper this morning, of a select lot of Oil Paintings, rich silver plated ware, and rosewood furniture. These are offered to artists, the lovers of the picturesque, and families.

THEATRE.—Mr. Murdoch had a five house last night. His Macbeth was not as good as some of his other characters, but still was a very attractive rendering. The afterpiece was a new, and very laughable.

To-morrow evening the new drama of Gold will be produced. It has been prepared with no little expense and labor; and we have no doubt will have a good run.

MAN STABBED.—Shortly after 11 o'clock last night, on Fifth street, near the river, a couple of Irishmen got into a quarrel, the one of which, one of them stabbed the other so that it is supposed he cannot live. The one who stabbed him, was arrested by Mr. Antie and Col. Bain. We could not learn any names, nor further particulars.

We call the attention of young men to the advertisement of a night school by Mr. Harney. It will furnish an opportunity for those desirous of educating themselves to attend without losing time from their business.

Francis Shad was yesterday sworn in as interpreter in the city court, which was excepted to by Mr. Ruckstuhl.

DECLARATION.—August Arnold swore to and filed a declaration of his intentions of becoming a citizen of the United States.

INQUEST No. 59.—Held at the Democrat office, on the 25th inst., by the body of D. L. Ward, aged 30 years. The verdict of the jury was that D. L. Ward was killed by Lindsay, and that Lindsay was sane at the time.

INQUEST No. 58.—Held at the Democrat office, on the 25th inst., by the body of Geo. Wessendorf, a German, aged 25 years. Verdict.—"Came to his death from congestion and hemorrhage of the lungs."

INQUEST No. 57.—Held at the Democrat office, on the 25th inst., by the body of Geo. Wessendorf, a German, aged 25 years. Verdict.—"Came to his death from congestion and hemorrhage of the lungs."

Coroner's Inquest.—Testimony in the Case of the Murder of D. L. Ward.

J. N. COLLINS SWORN: Saw two men on the opposite side of the street; saw deceased strike Lindsay on the left cheek; Lindsay then drew a pistol and fired at Ward with a revolver; witness then went up to Lindsay and said, "I am not a policeman;" Lindsay handed witness the revolver, and witness delivered Lindsay to an officer; knew of no previous altercation between the parties.

ROBERT COLLINS SWORN: Was sitting with his brother J. (the former witness) on the opposite side of the street; brother remarked, "there's a man shot;" did not see anything before the shot; don't know either of the parties; has seen Ward before; occurrence took place near Diller's tobacco store; could not see the pistol, but Lindsay trying to put something in his pocket; heard somebody ask Lindsay, "did you shoot him?" and Lindsay said "I did;" did not see Ward shoot Lindsay; had the attention first called to it by his brother.

J. HUGHES SWORN: Was going down Third street at the time; saw Lindsay go to Ward, who was sitting on the steps; saw Lindsay call Ward a liar; saw Lindsay shoot Ward; saw Ward stagger into this office, and sit down in a chair. "Lindsay did it," said he, "arrest him, and die in about half an hour. The testimony before the Coroner's inquest will be in another column. The parties were not in the office; the deceased left that office on a mission, and Lindsay has a wife and two children, who live in Covington, Ky.

J. D. BRIDGES SWORN: Was in conversation with Ward, on the steps, on the subject of Lindsay's intended departure; talked about ten minutes with him, when Lindsay came up; Ward was sitting on the steps; Ward spoke to Lindsay about some difficulty between them, which occurred about a month ago; don't know what it was, but heard Lindsay call Ward a liar; Lindsay then drew a pistol and shot Ward; heard Ward say, "I'm shot—killed you;" occurrence took place about a quarter past two p. m.; Ward was standing in an erect position when Lindsay shot him.

CONVICT'S VENDOR.—That the said D. L. Ward came to his death from a gun-shot wound in the left breast, at the hands of Robert R. Lindsay, on the 25th inst., about 2 o'clock, p. m.

The Masonic Fair.

We have been allowed the privilege of looking through many of the articles imported by the enterprising members of the Masonic Fair, for exhibition and for sale at their Fair, which is to commence to-morrow evening, 27th. Amongst other articles, our attention was particularly called to the display of china and glassware. There are many sets of superb tea and dinner sets, every one complete, and made up of the most beautiful designs, combined with the most elegant workmanship, such as would commend them to the good taste of our citizens.

Vases, mantle ornaments, &c., the Fair is richly endowed with. It would seem as if the wealth of the Curran's were exhausted in furnishing so beautiful specimens that the Fair is now in possession of.

In specimens of domestic and foreign manufactures, to suit the taste of the juveniles, and the more advanced in years, the beautiful rooms of the Masonic Temple are richly stored; and when brought into one general whole, a display will be made, such as our citizens are accustomed to witness, and to see which will be, or ought to be, considered an epoch in our life.

to use these quack remedies, and had resisted all the efforts of the State Board of Health to prevent it. The State Board of Health, in its annual report, says, that it has made a great number of visits to the country, where the druggists were properly informed. Such visits have been made at intervals, and the result has been a gradual decrease in the use of these quack remedies.
